CUMC Bazaar

The United Methodist Women of Community United Methodist Church of Belle Glade will be hosting their annual Holiday Bazaar and Bake Sale, Saturday, Nov. 12, from 8:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. in Jameson Hall at the church at 401 S.W. First Street, Belle Glade.

They will offer for sale a wide selection of handmade items, including pillows, dolls, Christmas decorations and tree ornaments, holiday arrangements and wreaths, wall hangings, and toys. There will also be homemade jellies, cakes, and candies for future use and soup, chili, and Cuban sandwiches to be eaten there or taken home.

PBCC Glades Campus Golf Tournament

Palm Beach Community College's Glades Campus will hold its eighth annual golf tournament on Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Belle Glade Municipal Golf Course in Belle Glade. Registration gets under way at 8 a.m., and tee-off is set for 9 a.m.

Prizes will be awarded following the tournament and includes a first prize $100 gift certificate. In addition, this year's tournament will award a new 1995 Mercury Cougar for a hole-in-one.

The tournament features a scramble format, and the golf committee will make up teams based on individual handicaps.

All proceeds will benefit financially needy students at the Glades Campus. For tournament cost and registration, call 996-6605. For sponsorship and additional information, call 992-6166.

Halloween Ball planned

The members of the Gents will be hosting their annual Halloween Ball at the National Guard Armory on South Main Street, Belle Glade on Saturday, Oct. 29, beginning at 9 p.m.

Prizes will be given for costumes. For tickets, see any Gent member.

Shots for tots' toys

Glades General Hospital is sponsoring a "Shots for Tots" on Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Winn Dixie on Main Street, Belle Glade from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

No shots will be given to children. The shots are for the children's toys. Bring your child and their favorite toy, and learn the importance of immunization. The child's toy (stuffed animal or doll) receives the shot. Complimentary balloons, band-aids, and stickers will be given away and Raggedy Ann has been invited.

Benefit fish fry

There will be a benefit fish fry with all the trimmings on Oct. 22, beginning at 11 a.m. at the Pahokee Elks Lodge, Number 1638.

The event is for Melissa Miller Abner and donations are $5. Tickets are on sale and can be purchased from any Elks member or purchased at the door.

Building permits now available at Glades Office Building

On Monday mornings, Glades residents and building can now obtain personal assistance from Palm Beach County Building Division staff when they apply for building permits at the County's Glades Office Building.

After meetings with members of the construction industry and residents in the Glades, Commission Ken Foster arranged with the County's Building Division to send a building permit technician each Monday morning to the Glades office complex from 8 a.m. to noon to enhance customer service for the Glades building community.

Previously, those with permit questions had to go to the Building Division office in West Palm Beach.

Building Permit Technician Bobbi Boynton is currently assigned to operate the Glades permitting office on Mondays.

For further information about the permitting, contact the Glades Office Building, 2976 State Road 15 in Belle Glade at 996-4800.

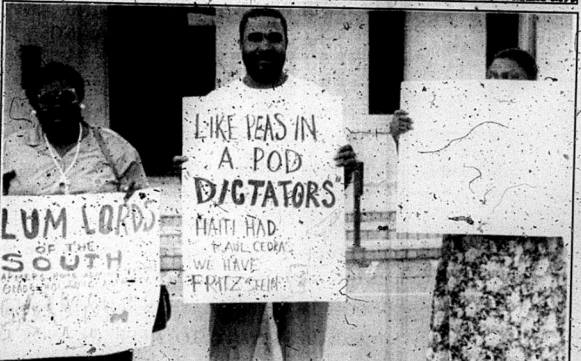

Information sought in death of elderly man

The Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department in conjunction with Crime Stoppers is asking anyone with information in the brutal killing of a Pahokee man to contact them. Those with information can remain anonymous and be eligible for up to a $1,000 reward.

Herman Wilson, 77, was found dead inside his Pahokee home Oct. 9 after police were called to the home, 686 Frazier Court in Padgett Circle, by neighbors who said they had not seen the man for some days. According to PBSO reports, the neighbors were concerned for the elderly man's welfare. Deputies discovered the man's body lying on the living room floor.

According to reports, Mr. Wilson had died of blunt trauma.

About 30 members of the Resident's Council of the Okeechobee and Ocala Housing Authority held a protest in front of Belle Glade City Hall last Wednesday afternoon. The protesters say they have a long list of complaints against the Belle Glade Housing Authority which have not been resolved.

Belle Glade Fire Dept. offering free home fire safety surveys in Oct.

Beginning Saturday, Oct. 22, the Belle Glade Fire Rescue will be offering free home fire safety surveys to those who live in one or two family dwelling units within the City of Belle Glade.

Fire Chief Tony Tuliano said he wants to stress that this is not an inspection or enforcement program, but a program designed to educate families about common hazards found in and around the home.

In 1993, 52 percent of all structure fires responded to by the Belle Glade Fire Rescue Department occurred in one and two family dwellings. "It is statistics like these that prompt us to urge families to practice good fire safety habits in the home," said Chief Tuliano.

Survey teams from the fire department will be going door-to-door systematically throughout the city. "We anticipate this program will take a few months to complete," said the chief.

The survey teams will consist of two uniformed members of the fire department. All team members will be displaying photo identification cards.

"If you are not at home when we visit your neighborhood, we will be leaving an information packet at your door. This packet will contain safety information from both the fire department and the American Red Cross," said Chief Tuliano. "If you are uncomfortable about us visiting your home, we will be happy to supply you with an easy to follow fire safety checklist you can 'perform yourself,'" he added.

Anyone having any questions about this program can call Chief Tuliano or Captain Stephen Rice at 996-2032.

City of Pahokee town promoter dies at age 42

Remembered as a man who assisted in beginning the Annual Grassy Waters Festival in Pahokee, David E. Sanders died Oct. 12 at Jupiter Medical Center. Mr. Sanders had been stricken with a brain tumor.

Mr. Sanders was instrumental in promoting Pahokee and had served as a director of the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Sanders relocated to the Pahokee area from Fort Lauderdale in 1983. He was a business manager of an auto parts firm that was housed in Pahokee and Belle Glade. He became director of the chamber in 1987, and was named president in 1989. He also served as the Grassy Waters co-chairperson in 1991-92. (The Grassy Waters Festival is held on Pahokee's lakefront and features fun, recreation and relaxation for those attending. The festival attracts visitors from as far away as the Carolinas.)

According to Pahokee Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Alice Thompson, "He (Mr. Sanders) loved the lakefront and wanted to see something done there to promote the town."

Resident's Council tenants picket in front of city hall

By Brenda Bunting

Approximately 30 tenants from the Okeechobee and Ocala Housing Authority centers picketed in front of Belle Glade's City Hall last Wednesday afternoon.

Protesters said they have a long list of complaints against the housing authority board which is appointed by the city commission.

President of the Resident's Council Albert Peterson said he organized the protest because changes in policy by the housing authority board have come too slowly and many of the residents' requests have not been met.

In August, Mr. Peterson said he asked Mayor Steve Weeks, who makes the housing authority board appointments, to appoint Richard Ramsey, principal at Lake Shore Middle to the board, but the two open positions were reapportioned to seated board members.

"We have requested a lot of avenues and that's why we're holding this protest," said Mr. Peterson. "There are more things we're going to pursue if this doesn't work."

Mr. Peterson said his council wants Housing Authority Board Chairman Fritz Stein to resign as well as Housing Authority Executive Director Lois Davis.

"We're asking for Mr. Stein's resignation because he's the chairman of that board and he is responsible. If you cut off the head, the body will die," said Mr. Peterson. "But we still don't rule out the possibility of trying to work with him," he added.

The tenants said they are also concerned about announcements of impending rent increases in the center and they want to use housing authority facilities for Resident Council activities. They also want Okeechobee Center, which is outside the city limits, to be annexed within the city limits so the citizens can vote in city elections.

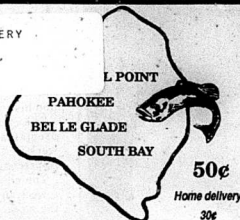

Ocala Center, which is inside the city limits, has about 300 units. Okeechobee Center has 400 units.

City Manager Lomax Harrelle said he doesn't understand why the Resident's Council is having problems.

"When I was the executive director of the housing authority (1983-89) every single suggestion I made to that board they were receptive," said Mr. Harrelle. The same members sit on that board today, he added.

Bon Voyage!...Rev. Bill Dever and his wife, Mikki, were given at Caribbean cruise and other gifts by members of the Church of the Nazarene in Pahokee last week during "Pastor Appreciation Week."

Local mens club plans car wash

The men on the Serious Side of the Glades is having a car wash and Fish Fry, Sat., Oct. 22, from 9 am to 4 pm. Located on Palm Beach Road in South Bay, at Gursley's and C.A.C. on the behalf of the Frazier Family.

Local pastor knows he's loved

Pastor William K. Dever of the Pahokee Church of the Nazarene says he is sure that his congregation loves him and his wife, Mikki.

The church board issued a proclamation declaring the week of Oct. 8-9, as "Pastor Appreciation Week."

The church board met once a week in secret and planned the week. The pastor and his wife were not told anything was being planned.

On Monday, Oct. 3, Pastor Dever and his wife, along with the church board and their spouses, enjoyed a formal dinner at the home of a board member.

On Tuesday, Oct. 4, a basket with various gifts and treats was delivered to their home by a stranger whose only explanation was, "I was just told to deliver this basket to this house." Shortly after this, on the same morning, a maid knocked on their door and advised them that she was theirs for the day to do whatever they needed done.

On Wednesday, Oct. 5, while at church for the mid-week Bible study, small gifts were left for both the pastor and his wife where they would be sure to find them. After the Bible study, everyone went over to the fellowship hall and there were ice cream sundaes for everyone with all of the trimmings. (Mrs. Dever is diabetic and there was even sugar-free ice cream and toppings for her and other members who are on sugar-free diets.)

On Thursday, Oct. 6, dinner was delivered to the Devers' home for them and their out-of-town guests who had arrived that day. (Their daughter and son-in-law came in for a week from Memphis, Tenn.)

On Friday, Oct. 7, a package was delivered to their door. There were two sets of new sheets and pillowcases so they would not have to do laundry while they had guests.

Pastor Dever and his wife were wondering what was going on and were asking everyone they saw what was happening. No one would tell them.

On Saturday, Oct. 8, at 2:30 p.m., a special service and celebration was held using the "This is Your Life" format. Church members had spent weeks contacting old friends from childhood on up and making posters from old photographs. These were from the time Pastor Dever was an infant up to a current picture.

Church members said one of the highlights of the program was when Rev. Kelly Green, who was saved under the ministry of Pastor Dever, spoke from a back room and then came into the sanctuary to surprise the Devers. (Rev. Green pastors a Nazarene church in Lake Placid.)

Several of the local pastors, including one from the Pahokee Ministerial Association, were on hand to give brief presentations.

The event ended with Pastor Dever being presented with a plaque and he and Mrs. Dever were given tickets for a cruise to the Caribbean and a check for $300 to provide them with spending money while they are gone.

Where is the scariest place on earth?

By Mike Lyons

Where is the scariest place on earth? It depends, of course, on whom you ask. Some might say a dark alley in the middle of the night. Others may think it's giving a speech in front of 100 people. My 6-year-old daughter says the scariest place on earth is Splash Mountain at Walt Disney World.

David Fisher has his own answer to that question. Fisher says the scariest place on earth is directly in the path of an oncoming category five hurricane. He should know. On Aug. 24, 1992, Mr. Fisher was in his home in Dade County as Hurricane Andrew came calling. Andrew wasn't a Category 5 hurricane but it was pretty close. Only two hurricanes have been stronger and none caused more damage.

Mr. Fisher recounts his close encounter with Andrew in The Scariest Place on Earth, Eye to Eye with Hurricanes, Random House, $23.00. In vivid detail, Mr. Fisher describes his anxiety over his unprepared home, his frustration to keep rain out of his house, his relief at being spared by the storm and his shock at what he saw when Andrew was gone.

He also admits that he should have known better, that he should have been more prepared. A resident of Miami for the past three decades, Mr. Fisher holds a Ph.D. in nuclear chemistry, is director of the Environmental Science Program at the University of Miami and is the author of 16 books. He's no dummy yet he admits to acting like one before Andrew came.

"The first hurricane to hit here in twenty-five years can't be the worst of all time," Mr. Fisher writes. "That's to much of a coincidence. We're entitled to a small one first, aren't we? Just to learn what to do."

Sometimes, we learn the hard way. Andrew has been the subject of more studies and research projects than any other storm in recent history thanks, in large part, to the fact that the storm hit the heart of the hurricane research community. Yet, Mr. Fisher writes in his book, we still have an awful lot to learn about these giant storms.

The Scariest Place on Earth is more than just another first-hand account of Hurricane Andrew. It is the complete story of hurricanes, their effect on history and man's efforts to try to figure them out.

At times, the books reads like a college lecture from someone with a Ph.D. in nuclear chemistry. Yet, it is full of so many amazing stories that a student of Saturday morning television would enjoy it.

Christopher Columbus, for example, became not only the first European to witness a hurricane but, several years later, the first man to accurately predict one was coming. The Japanese, in the midst of their shogun era, were saved not once but twice from the invading forces of Kublai Khan thanks to typhoons with good timing. And then there's the story of Colonel Joseph Duckworth, the first man to fly a airplane (on purpose) into a hurricane.

Mr. Fisher also explains how hurricanes work, why they are so difficult to predict and, in perhaps the book's most frightening chapter, why residents of Florida may see more of them in future years.

Mr. Fisher isn't the first person to suggest stormy weather in our immediate future. Other hurricane forecasters, most notably Dr. William Gray of Colorado State University, have predicted a return to a more active storm cycle in Florida. If true, every Floridian needs to get up to speed on hurricanes. The Scariest Place on Earth is an excellent place to start.

BEWARE OF MISLEADING ADVERTISING ON "LIMITED CASINOS" ISSUE

Casino gambling is currently illegal in Florida, and will remain so unless the state constitution is changed by the voters. "Limited Casinos" is a proposal to do just that. It is promoted by very misleading advertising that suggests that "the best way to control casinos in Florida is to limit their number." The "Limited Casinos" proposal would change the constitution to "limit" their number. Since casinos are presently illegal in Florida, the effect of such a proposal would be to open the door to bring in a "limited" number of casinos. In fact, it would authorize the establishment of forty-seven (47) casinos in nine different counties, without local voter authorization. The "limited casinos" proposal is heavily supported by big gambling interests, including many from out of state, who could not care less for the impact on our state. Don't be misled by their advertising.

THE BEST WAY TO KEEP CASINOS OUT OF FLORIDA IS TO VOTE "NO" TO THE "LIMITED CASINO" PROPOSAL.

Classes offered at Glades Central

Special interest and leisure time classes are being offered at Glades Central Community High School beginning Oct. 24. All classes meet once a week for eight weeks from 7 to 9 p.m. and tuition is $20.

Courses offered include conversational Creole or Spanish, calligraphy, fabric painting, pottery or sewing. Also offered is keyboard or piano lessons or a physical fitness program. For more information, call 996-4950.

Two-day meeting on the Everglades

A two-day meeting will be held at the Omni West Palm Beach Hotel to do an in depth analysis of the Everglades flow way concept and sustainable agriculture in Florida. The Governor's Commission for a Sustainable South Florida is the name of the meeting, which will be held Oct. 19 and 20.

The flow way presentation will begin Wednesday, Oct. 19, at 3:15 p.m. with presenters including Jack Peeples, Paul Larsen (Larsen and Associates), Edwin Moore (National Audubon Society), and Tommy Strowd (South Florida Water Management District).

Many of the top research scientists involved in Everglades Restoration will participate in the panel discussion "A Research Retrospective: Everglades Restoration, Where Do We Go From Here?" on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. Dr. Curtis Richardson from the Duke Wetlands Center, Dr. Ron Jones, Southeast Environmental Research Program, FIU, Dr. Fontaine from the SFWMD, and Dr. Tom Bancroft from the Archbold Biological Station will all participate. Thursday's discussion on sustainable agriculture will begin with an overview of agriculture in Florida from Dr. Mickie Swisher of the University of Florida.

The remainder of the afternoon will focus on the Everglades Agriculture Area. The first panel, "Sustainable Agriculture in the EAA: A Corporate Perspective," includes presentations by the Florida Sugar Cane League, University of Florida's Food and Resource Economics Department, and Clarence Anthony, mayor of South Bay. Presentations by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Army Corps of Engineers will complete the day.

The Omni Hotel is located at 1601 Belvedere Road, West Palm Beach. For more information, contact Lisa Dority at 305-663-3521.

ARC selling surplus inventory

The Glades Area ARC is selling off surplus inventory of jeans and other clothing left over from clothes sorting contracts.

Literally thousands of pair of pre-worn jeans, jean shorts, and shirts will be sold.

The sale will be at the ARC Adult Program building, one mile north of Hooker Highway on State Road 715 (the old sludge rink), from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 22. Some furniture and other goods will be sold as well. Contact Sandy at 996-9583 for more information.

GDS Fall Festival

Glades Day School will hold its annual Fall Festival and auction fundraiser Saturday, Oct. 22, on the school grounds. Activities will kick off at 5 p.m. with the elementary costume parade on the football field. Trophies will be awarded for Most Original, Most Authentic, Best Halloween, Best Group, Theme and Best Overall Visitor's categories.

Food booths will open at 6 p.m., and the games will begin at 6 p.m. Kids (big and little) can take part in a shooting gallery, jailhouse, dunking tank, fish pond, basketball shoot, cake spin and other contests as well as munch down on hamburgers, hot dogs and baked goodies.

A country store will feature all kinds of new and previously owned items ranging from crafts to clothing to produce. Anyone interested in donating to the Country Store may contact Sherry Carlson, Paula Pate or the elementary offices at 996-5598 or 996-4140.

An array of items will be offered for sale to the highest bidder during the auction which begins at 6:30 p.m.

The evening's climax will be the final drawing for the winner of a 1995 red Ford Mustang 2-door Coupe (fully loaded) sponsored by the school's athletic Booster Club.

Tickets for the car are available in the high school office or from any board member for $100 each.

Proceeds from the carnival and auction will go towards the school's general fund and various classes and organizations at the school.

County plans $19 million local jail and center

The Palm Beach County Board of County Commissioners moved forward on Tuesday, Oct. 4, with the West County Jail and Government Center Improvement Project for the county facilities in Belle Glade. Total project cost is estimated to be over $19 million with a guaranteed maximum price of $15,787,000. Construction period is 450 days. Along with the jail and sheriff's facility expansion is a health clinic expansion, including addition of an AIDS clinic. Other improvements include ADA improvements, life safety upgrades and improvement of the courthouse HVAC.

In conjunction with the project, the board approved an Interlocal Agreement with the City of Belle Glade for a wastewater line extension to service the existing and proposed facilities expansion at the West County Government Center for a not-to-exceed cost to the County of $843,000, and a one-time connection charge of $273,310.

OPINION PAGE

Feel strongly about local issues?

To voice your opinion on any subject, call Speak Out at 996-6636, 24 hours a day. Readers can use this special number to pose questions, voice complaints, express opinions or put somebody on the back. Unlike letters to the editor, Speak Out is designed for anonymous expression of opinions. We edit calls for clarity, brevity, relevance and fairness.

Take down the signs

"Have you noticed that the elections are over and the election signs are still standing all over town? Why don't they clean up afterwards?"

Foul language

"It's a shame you can't go into local eating establishments between 2:30 and 3:30 in the afternoon without having some people come in and sit down and start using foul language."

I don't know if these were football players or just regular males.

It certainly is terrible when you are trying to go in and enjoy a meal and have this kind of language go on, especially if you have small children with you.

Anywhere else, Clewiston, West Palm, you can sit down and have a meal without having people come in and talk like this. It's a shame that in our town of Belle Glade we have to put up with this."

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited to take out the name of the restaurant and some references to race. Just a suggestion. Next time this happens to you, I suggest you speak to the manager and ask him/her to speak to the offending party about their foul language. I had to do that one time myself.

Vandalism

"Regarding the Palm Glade Day Care vandalism: The authorities evidently know who the culprits are. I hope, somehow, the families of those juvenile delinquents can be made to pay for the damages to the center."

It's also too bad the brats and their parents weren't made to clean up the mess. If more parents were held directly responsible for their offspring's violence, perhaps we would all benefit."

Men on bicycles with guns

"Yes. This can be referred to Belle Glade's Police Chief, Mike Miller. I was wondering why two auxiliary officers ride around town on bicycles with guns on the side of their hips?"

These are not small revolvers, these are big revolvers. I don't know if our town is that bad that citizens need to ride bicycle patrol with guns or not.

Thank you."

Editor's note: This Speak Out was edited to remove the names of the auxiliary officers because we felt the question could be answered without naming names. Chief Miller responds:

"Both of these individuals are certified auxiliary police officers with years of auxiliary experience. The City of Belle Glade is fortunate to have these dedicated citizen volunteers who donate many hours to help make Belle Glade a better community. All of our police and auxiliary officers, by department policy, are required to carry a firearm both on duty and off duty. Should these auxiliary officers witness the commission of a crime, they are obligated to take appropriate action. Those citizens who live in the neighborhoods where these officers ride their bicycles should feel safer for them doing so. Please understand, although police officers carry firearms, most officers, fortunately, never have to use them. I have been a police officer for 22 years and I'm very proud to say I've never fired my weapon in the line of duty and most police officers can say the same thing."

"THE PARSON'S IDEA OF SCATTERING FOOTBALL SCORES THROUGHOUT THE BULLETIN SURE GETS IT READ."

Don't waste the unified credit

Waste has become a major problem in America today. We waste water. We waste food. We waste energy, and we waste many of the other natural resources that this country has been blessed with. Fortunately, the trend is beginning to reverse itself. People are becoming more and more aware that our resources are limited and that we need to make the best of them.

Unfortunately, another type of waste exists in the area of estate planning, and it may affect you. The waste occurs with the unified credit. Many married couples are wasting their use of the unified credit. Consequently, they may be wasting their assets, as well. When a person dies, his or her estate is entitled to the unified credit. The credit offsets the estate tax on a taxable estate of $600,000 or less. What that means, very simply, is that if your estate is worth $600,000 or less, your estate will not be subject to federal estate taxes.

If a married person dies, however, not only is his or her estate entitled to the unified credit, but it's also entitled to the marital deduction. That means, as a married individual, you can leave your entire estate to your surviving spouse and your estate will pay no estate tax whatsoever (certain conditions must be met). So a married couple really has a three estate tax saving opportunities:

a unified credit for the husband, a unified credit for the wife, and the marital deduction for the first to die. What often happens, though, is one of the unified credits is wasted completely. Here's a typical case. The husband dies first and leaves his entire estate to his surviving wife. By doing so, he takes advantage of the marital deduction and his estate pays no estate taxes. His unified credit, though, goes unused. Later, when the wife dies, her estate uses her unified credit and avoids estate tax on the first $600,000 of assets. Anything over that amount, though, is subject to estate tax. In effect, this couple has utilized only two of the three estate saving opportunities available.

If, on the other hand, the husband and wife had set up a two-trust estate plan, they could have taken full advantage of both unified credits and the marital deduction without any waste whatsoever.

The two-trust estate plan generally works in this way: When you die, your estate is divided into two parts. One part is placed into a trust (let's call it Trust A) that qualified for the estate tax marital deduction. All of the income from the trust is payable to your surviving spouse annually, and your spouse is given a general power to appoint the trust property to himself or herself, to your children, or to anyone else. Your estate will pay no estate taxes on the assets in this trust when you die because of the marital deduction. The second part of your estate is placed in another trust (Trust B) designed to take advantage of your unified credit. Your spouse may receive all of the income from this trust, too. But your spouse's power to appoint this trust is limited.

When your spouse dies, the value of Trust A will be included in your surviving spouse's estate for estate tax purposes. But your spouse's unified credit will offset at least part (and maybe all) of the estate tax on the property. The value of Trust B's assets will be excluded from your spouse's estate.

So, if you have an estate worth $1,200,000 and if you place $600,000 of assets into each trust, your estate will pay no tax. And your spouse's estate will avoid estate tax on assets received from your estate. This can mean a tax saving of $235,000 or more.

Obviously, the subject is too complex to fully explain here. Local bankers will welcome your questions about estate planning in general and about your family's estate plans. If you would like to know more about the two-trust estate plan and other estate planning opportunities, call your banker. This information is courtesy of Barnett Bank.

Lamaze even better the third time around

Janice and Ibrahim Alava of Belle Glade are sold on the Lamaze method of prepared childbirth.

When their first son, Trey, was born 14 years ago, they attended Lamaze classes. They repeated the classes two years later when they were expecting their second son, Shawn.

This past spring, when Mrs. Alava was about five months pregnant, they signed up for the classes again. Mr. Alava said they almost skipped the classes this time, feeling they already knew the procedure, but said he was glad they repeated the classes.

"The breathing technique has changed," he said, "and the husband is more involved. It seems less stressful for the woman."

Lamaze is a method of prepared childbirth which was introduced throughout Europe in 1951 by Dr. Fernand Lamaze. The system, also referred to as the psychoprophylactic method of prepared childbirth, was introduced in the United States in 1959.

Locally, the Childbirth Education Association of the Palm Beaches, Inc., sponsors the classes in the Glades and has since 1968.

Lamaze is not natural childbirth, but childbirth classes combined with education, methods of body relaxation and concentration along with specific breathing techniques to work with the process of labor and delivery.

Participants are asked to sign up for the classes in the mother's fifth month. Classes meet once a week for five weeks.

Ideally, participants should begin the class series between the sixth and seventh month of pregnancy. This will insure completion of the series before the time of delivery.

Class series includes facts about the danger signs of a problem pregnancy, when to call the doctor, how to better care for your baby and yourself, what to expect during labor and delivery, the importance of early bonding between parents and their baby, facts about cesarean birth, newborn care, bottle or breast feeding and how to access additional services which will help the mother and baby get off to a good start.

The Alava's took Lamaze at Glades General Hospital. The classes are also taught at Everglades Regional Medical Center in Pahokee.

"We were glad we took Lamaze," said Mrs. Alava. "We used all the information and breathing techniques and we delivered Luke, a beautiful, healthy baby boy. He had an apgar score of 10/10."

The apgar score measured the baby's alertness, breathing and heartbeat at birth. Mothers who use fewer painkillers during the birthing process usually deliver a more alert child.

For more information on the next series of Lamaze classes, contact Teresa Hooks at 996-0746.

Delivered the Lamaze way...All three of the Alava boys were delivered using the Lamaze method of childbirth. Shown, seated, are Janice Alava holding Luke, who was born in August, and husband Ibrahim Alava. Standing in back, from left, are Shawn, 12, and Trey, 14.

Quorum Health Resources signs agreement with Glades General

Quorum Health Resources, Inc. has signed a five-year management agreement with Glades General Hospital in Belle Glade. The announcement of the new agreement was made by Jerry M. Wilkes, vice president of Quorum Health Resources, and Sandra Chamblee, chairman of the board of trustees of Glades General Hospital.

"We are honored to have the opportunity to provide management services to Glades General Hospital," said Mr. Wilkes. "We are very impressed with the commitment of the employees, medical staff and governing board to meeting the health care needs of the Glades General service area."

Under the terms of the agreement, which became effective Oct. 13, Quorum Health Resources will furnish management expertise and resources while supporting the services offered by the hospital as it continues to provide patient care. The hospital board will retain control of policy setting and overall direction of the hospital.

Quorum currently manages Hendry General Hospital in Clewiston.

"We are looking forward to using the resources of Quorum Health Resources to support and enhance our delivery of health care to our service area," said Mrs. Chamblee.

Neil Whipkey, administrator of Glades General Hospital, noted "The daily running of the hospital, the multiple financial requirements, managed care and the ongoing health care reform issues makes it very difficult for one person to do. Their documented track record of success and experience helped us make the decision to contract with them for management of the hospital."

"Hospitals today face an increasing complex environment," said Mr. Wilkes. "We look forward to applying our expertise, resources and understanding of Glades General Hospital's particular situation to help them address their current environment and further develop their ability to deliver quality health care in the future."

Quorum Health Resources, Inc. is the nation's largest hospital management and consulting services company, with client hospitals throughout the United States.

Mr. Sanders was named Rotarian of the Year in 1991, and was named president in 1993-94. He also served on the city's code enforcement board.

"David was the kind of friend that everybody should have once in their lifetime and I feel so blessed to have been among those he called 'friend,'" said Deborah Boswell, a long time friend of 14 years. "The City of Pahokee has truly suffered a great loss and the best memorial to David would be for the ideas he shared with others to be fulfilled."

A well-known sourdough break baker, Mr. Sanders had no immediate family in the area.

He is survived by his parents: Mr. and Mrs. Billy Sanders of LaCentre, Ky.; brother, Wayne Sanders of Bandana, Ky.; and two sisters:

Connell Chiropractic Clinic

Dr. Kevin L. Connell, Chiropractic Physician

Are you continually suffering with a headache that won't go away or recurring pains in your arms, legs, shoulders or neck? Perhaps you have a backache or have recently been injured in an accident. Whatever the problem, Dr. Kevin Connell, located in Belle Glade at 607 South Main Street, Suite 106, phone 996-1876, may be able to help.

Chiropractic is a philosophy and science of things natural, following the principle that a well-balanced nervous system relies on the body's innate ability to correct itself without the use of surgery or drugs. Each year, thousands of people find relief from pain and tension as a result of chiropractic care and also feel that routine chiropractic visits greatly benefit their overall health. With rising medical costs and more information available on side effects of various medications, many people are investigating alternative methods of healthcare.

A careful and thorough examination including x-rays can reveal the source of discomfort or pain and enable Dr. Connell to recommend an appropriate treatment program. Surgery and drugs can be avoided in many cases through proper spinal adjustments and various therapies. Chiropractic care may be the natural road to your better health, and is covered by many insurance plans. Contact Connell Chiropractic Clinic today for an appointment or more information.

By Lindsay Bennett

Glades Central began Homecoming festivities 1994 with coronation of campus royalty Monday night in the school's gym. The homecoming theme is "One Last Time" commemorating the last year at the present facility. Festivities were led by Masters of Ceremony Anthony Parrish and Milton Watson, together with Mistresses of Ceremony Saton Konchellah and Melanie Bolden.

The evening began with a welcome by Edna Legister, Student Council representative, who gave a reflection on the homecoming theme. Musical selections were provided by both the chorus and the band.

Club queens were presented by Mr. Parrish and Miss Konchellah. They are:

Miss Maroon Machine - LeZelia McPhee; Miss Pep Club - Tiffany Frederick; Miss Photo Club - Wilvittia King; Miss Thespian - Snowie Austin; Miss Junior Varsity - Lynn Warren; Miss Modeling Club - Taten Zayyad; Miss Drama Club - Lindsay Bennett; Miss Junior Varsity

Sweetheart - Shanika Anderson; Miss Friends Club - Candacy Wint; Miss Varsity - Dorothy Bennett; Miss FBIA - Tomteya Seymore; Miss Chorus - Ina Kyles; Miss Varsity Team Sweetheart - Ronelda Frederick.

The royal court was presented by Mr. Watson and Ms. Bolden. Their escorts were Robert Mitchell, Kevin McCall, Michael Bryant, Daryl Flinty, Herbert Hutchinson, Andre Harriott, James Jackson, Fadie Musale. The Freshman Court includes Queen Carmelia Nicole Walker and her attendants, Sheronda Rush and Kimberly Alford. The Sophomore Court consists of Queen Viviana Espinoza and her attendants, Marlena Fordham and Olivia Williams. The Junior Court consists of Queen Steacy Hutchinson and her attendant, Latangela Booker.

Mr. and Miss Homecoming were then presented. The titles are held by Reginald Moore and Lucresia Faulk. Mr. Glades Central is Johnny Rutledge and his attendants are Robert Newkirk and Jaum Seider. Miss Glades Central is Vanisha Brown and her attendants are Mahalia Jackson and Tequila Nelson.

Chorus Director Zarak Lawson sang the serenade in honor of Miss and Mr. Glades Central as they were presented to the audience.

The evening was a beautiful beginning for our Homecoming 1994!

Gator Tales

Gator fans, get your combat gear ready!

The Student Council announced this year's Homecoming theme as "Gators at War" in preparation for the game against American Heritage on Friday, Nov. 4. Students in grades seventh through 12th are encouraged to adhere to the theme in designing a class float for the homecoming parade that will be held at 1 p.m. that Friday.

Congratulations are in order for the varsity football team who won their first district title in six years by defeating Moore Haven last Friday. Anyone who was at the game couldn't complain of boredom as the Gators and Terriers fought a tough match. It wasn't until Patrick Whitehead's field goal in the fourth quarter that the Gators went ahead for good, 17-15. Even then they had to survive a last second rally by the Terriers before recovering a fumble to end the game. The victory assures Glades Day a spot in the playoffs!

The Gator Glee Club, under the direction of Mrs. Fliehs, will be featured performers at the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce's annual banquet Tuesday evening, Oct. 25. The 90-member group will be presenting selections from the "Top 40's" last year's spring concert.

We want to remind everyone of the Fall Festival that will begin at 5 p.m. this Saturday with the costume parade on the football field. Food booths will also open at this time followed by the game booths at 6 p.m.

The auction begins at 6:30 p.m. and will last indefinitely. Don't lose out on a chance to win the 1995 Ford Mustang in the annual drawing held by the booster club. Tickets are still available for $100. Keep in mind that the last one drawn will be the winner.

We will also have several drawings throughout the night for other specialty items such as two ladies' Dooney & Bourke purses, a full-sized Log Cabin quilt, and a Savage MOD 110 or 243 Bolt Action Rifle with 3x9 scope (sling swivel). Tickets for these items are $1 each and may be bought in the high school office. They will also be available the day of the carnival.

THE SUN, Thursday, October 20, 1994 - 7-A

Glades Day's West Campus reports that grades fourth through sixth enjoyed a recent field trip to a program by Christian Ministries. Besides giving students something to think about regarding the truth of God's creations, the Christian Ministries also sent a tape to the school for all classes to view. The tape gives a Biblical perspective to the study of dinosaurs.

The west campus also reports that Cecilia V. Thompson has been selected as their Teacher of the Month. Mrs. Thompson, the wife of Rev. Paul Thompson, is a 1988 graduate of Christian Day School. She is in her second year of teaching in the Glades and lists stamp collecting, aerobics and cooking among her hobbies.

Nursing shortage prevents immunizations

The Palm Beach County Childhood Immunization Coalition has reached an all-time high in public awareness. The public is calling on them to send out their Coalition Van, but they are having to tell some groups in the community that it will be a two-month waiting period before the immunization van can come to the neighborhood.

The problem? "We serve neighborhoods all over the county and we need nurses to help in our outreach. We don't have the peoplepower internally to fill all of the requests. RN's and LPN's can help us by volunteering through the HRS/Palm Beach County Health Department," says Bob Marks, a Kiwanian and leader of the Coalition.

The local Kiwanis organization first began the immunization program in 1991 using a member's personal mobilehome while HRS provided the nurses and immunization. Recently, a van was purchased by Kiwanis and given to the HRS/Palm Beach County Health Department. On Oct. 25 there will be a dedication of the van with Coalition, businesses and community leaders present.

Consistent numbers show how effective this mobile unit is in immunizing children from birth through 12th grade. The August tabulation shows 885 children throughout the county were brought closer to being fully-immunized through the Coalition program. Mr. Marks said, "Clearly, if we could only have nurses throughout the county help us in their own geographical area, we could then staff the van to go on location daily."

When a nurse volunteers through this program, the outreach protection offered provides sovereign immunity. Anyone interested in helping their community should contact (407) 355-3013 at the health department.

Statistics show that on 76 percent of children under the age of 2 have been fully-immunized in the state, Palm Beach County has a 62 percent compliance rate. The goal is 90 percent by 1998.

Fish attractors mark the spot

Finding out where the fish are isn't so hard if you keep your eye out for marked buoys designating fish attractor sites on five urban lakes in Palm Beach County.

Fish Attractors are nothing more than artificial freshwater reefs which provide cover for the lake's fish population said Frank Morello, Everglades fishery biologist with the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC).

"A fish attractor site concentrates fish in a particular location," Mr. Morello said. "All the sites are marked with buoys labeled fish attractor. These underwater structures provide cover and food for fish."

Minnows and other forage fish need underwater cover to provide a refuge from marauding predator fish such as largemouth bass. And, as the structure ages, its surface is coated with algae and becomes home to microscopic life forms which provide food for the forage fish species.

Two types of fish attractors are placed in Palm Beach County lakes, according to Mr. Morello. The first type is simply a brush pile securely fastened to a cement block anchor. The other is a plastic attractor called the Geoweb.

"The Geoweb came into use several years ago, Mr. Morello said. "Brush attractors gradually disintegrate under water, and must be refurbished every several years. The plastic Geoweb has an indefinite life span. Both will attract and concentrate fish."

Fish attractor sites are located at Lake Osborne, Lake Worth, Lake Catherine, Palm Beach Gardens, Lake Ida, Pine Lake, West Palm Beach, and Lake Okechee, West Palm Beach.

The fish attractor project is funded through the Federal Sport Fish Restoration Act. The money is derived from an excise tax on the sale of tackle and other sport fish equipment. The Geoweb was purchased by the Palm Beach County Department of Environmental Resource Management, and were funded by a special county tax on watercraft.

Mr. Morello said the fish attractor buoys have often been the target of vandals. "People who see vandalism or have information relating to past incidents of vandalism should call the Wildlife Alert Hotline at 1-800-432-2046.

Red Cross plans annual fashion show

The Third Annual Saks Fifth Avenue Fashion Show, American Red Cross, West County Service Center Fashion Show, will be held Nov. 5 at the Belle Glade Elks Club. The social hour will begin at 11 a.m. with lunch being served at noon. Tickets are available at the Red Cross office at 220 S. Main St., or by calling Heather Teeters at 992-9703.

Joanette Dexter is the event chairperson. The fashion show committee includes Dolly Hand, Susan Harrell, Liska Hooker, Nataleah Nachman, Mary Orsenigo, Jane Parrish, Judy Sanchez, Sue Teets, Karen McCarthy and Heather Teeters.

The proceeds from the fashion show will go for disaster services to replace the money spent in Belle Glade recently for the mercury spill. Over $21,000 was spent by the Red Cross during the "mercury incident". 6,251 meals were served to the workers and to the families who had to leave their homes. Vouchers for clothing were also given to seven families. The Red Cross provided services for 12 days.

Saks Fifth Avenue of Palm Beach will once again have a boutique in the lobby of the Elks Club. The boutique will offer an assortment of Christmas gifts that may be purchased. Credit cards will be accepted both at the boutique and the silent auction.

Cato establishes scholarship program

The Cato Corporation has established five scholarships to institutions of higher learning including a university, two colleges, a community college and a nursing school. The scholarships are awarded to students from communities the Cato Corporation serves and are based on academic merit and financial need. The Cato Corporation operates women's apparel specialty stores under the names, Cato, Cato Fashions, Cato Plus and It's Fashion!

"Our scholarship program gives us an opportunity to demonstrate our appreciation to the communities and customers we serve," said Wayland H. Cato Jr., chairman and CEO of the Cato Corporation. "It is important to note that each recipient will come from a community where we have a store. The program will give deserving students access to further education and will ultimately benefit the entire community."

The five institutions involved in the Cato Scholarship Program are Davidson College, Queens College, Johnson C. Smith

University, Piedmont College and Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing.

Muzzleloading season continues until Nov. 20

Muzzleloading gun hunters will have an exclusive opportunity to use their primitive weapons in the South Zone Oct. 15-23 and in the Central Zone Oct. 23-Nov. 6. The muzzleloader season in the Northwest Zone will be Nov. 18-20.

Muzzleloading gun seasons may vary on public wildlife management areas. Hunters should consult wildlife management area regulation summaries for specific dates.

The Everglades and Francis S. Taylor, Rotenberger and Holey Land Wildlife management areas are closed to public access for 90 days due to high water levels.

Mrs. Tommie Lee Dubose receives Volunteer Award

The Area Agency on Aging of Palm Beach/Treasure Coast recognized the contributions of more than 70 volunteers ages 60 and over, from a five-county area on Monday, Oct. 17. Mrs. Tommie Lee Dubose of Pahokee was the Glades volunteers recognized for her work on behalf of the community. Speakers such as Reg Miller, of TV Channel 25, and Mr. E. Bentley Lipscomb, secretary of the Florida Department of Elder Affairs, presented the awards.

Mrs. Dubose is president of the volunteer ladies auxiliary at Everglades Regional Medical Center. She has been a volunteer since 1972 and has logged over 22,000 hours of volunteer time. She is the sparkplug and leader of several dozen ladies who greet, welcome and give directions for the visitors at the hospital. Because of her efforts, the auxiliary has been consistently able to raise money to provide important and valuable equipment to the hospital.

Mrs. Dubose has been a resident of the Pahokee area since 1943 and was a school teacher for 35 years. She taught at Pahokee schools for 29 years and worked as a friend and peer alongside such school legends as Kathryn E. Cunningham. She is still an active representative at the Retired Teachers Association of Palm Beach County.

In April 1994 she was honored for her outstanding service to the community by AARP in 1993. She was honored by the Pahokee Chamber of Commerce as Volunteer of the Year in 1988. Lions International honored her in April 1983 for Community Services and Cooperation.

During her retirement for the past 15 years, Mrs. Dubose has "taken on" the care of various shut-ins in the area by doing many shopping trips, errands and homekeeping.

Rev. Jackie McMillan welcomed Dr. John Simon and his wife Carolyn to Canal Point United Methodist Church for the Annual Charge Conference Celebration.

Canal Point church holds Conference Celebration

The Annual Charge Conference Celebration was held last Sunday at the Canal Point United Methodist Church. The church family welcomed the West Palm Beach District superintendent, Dr. John Simon, and his wife Carolyn, to the celebration.

Also, the district secretary, Donna Kennedy, and her daughter Erin, were an important part of the day's events.

The enthusiastic, joyous voices of the children's choir singing "Celebrate, Oh, Celebrate! Come to the Party and Celebrate Him, Jesus Christ is so Great!" was a special highlight for everyone. The children's choir was directed by Becky Watson from the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade.

Becky Kepp, church hostess, had planned a delicious meal, and over 90 persons shared the meal together.

Diane and Dennis Wagner, Robert and Nancy Maxwell and Janette Campbell decorated the church sanctuary and Maxson Fellowship Hall. The decor emphasized the gifts that

God has so faithfully given, and still gives to us as individuals within the church to make the church strong and vital today, as well as for the past 75 years.

This annual conference is an accounting time, for the church to demonstrate through written and oral reports, how it has fulfilled its mission during the past year, and what the church plans and dreams for the new year.

Church officers were elected and the proposed budget was approved at the meeting also. A special occasion for the church family was also celebrated during the day's happenings. Harlan and Angela Sears celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary.

As the final moments of the Charge Conference ended, Mr. Wagner sang as 160 voices were shown of our people in the workplace, using daily the gifts and graces God has given them, making a difference in the heart of the Glades for God.

It was a celebration to remember.

Teenager Offers Hope To Children With Cancer

(NAPS)—Teenager Lisa Pappas has been named spokesperson for The National Children's Cancer Society (N.C.C.S.).

Her goal as spokesperson? "Let kids who are undergoing a bone marrow transplant know that there is hope—that they have a second chance at life." Her life-saving bone marrow transplant (BMT) was made possible by N.C.C.S., which provides financial assistance and services to children seeking a BMT.

A bone marrow transplant is often the only hope of survival for people suffering with life-threatening diseases such as Leukemia and Aplastic Anemia or rare genetic disorders such as Hurler Syndrome.

Today, two years post-transplant, Pappas, plans for her future. "I still want to be a nurse, but not with cancer patients. I've just seen too much cancer. I'm planning on going into neuro-netal care." She reflects for a moment and says about the past four years, "I believe I went through this for a reason, to be able to help people, and to speak on behalf of the National Children's Cancer Society. I feel I can be a voice for children who are too young or little to express their feelings."

If you know a child who needs financial assistance for a bone marrow transplant, call N.C.C.S. at 1-800-5-FAMILY.

Refinancing your credit card debt is one way to save money.

It's a way to save money. Here's how it works. Let's say you keep an average balance of $5,000 on your credit card and pay 18.2 percent in interest every year. At the end of that time you would have paid over $800 in interest alone. If you switched to a lower interest rate, say the 11.9 percent charged by Consumers Edge MasterCard and Visa, your interest payment would be $595, giving you over $300 in savings.

According to the April 1993 issue of Money Magazine, the Consumers Edge card from the Bank of New York (Delaware), with no annual fee and an 11.9 percent interest rate, was rated one of the best credit cards in the United States.

To apply for the Consumers Edge card, call 1-800-235-EDGE. Refinance your credit card debt today.

Arrangements were under the direction of Taylor-Smith-West Funeral Home.

Rev. Jackie McMillan welcomed Dr. John Simon and his wife Carolyn to Canal Point United Methodist Church for the Annual Charge Conference Celebration.

Canal Point church holds Conference Celebration

The Annual Charge Conference Celebration was held last Sunday at the Canal Point United Methodist Church. The church family welcomed the West Palm Beach District superintendent, Dr. John Simon, and his wife Carolyn, to the celebration.

Also, the district secretary, Donna Kennelly, and her daughter Erin, were an important part of the day's events.

The enthusiastic, joyous voices of the children's choir singing "Celebrate, Oh, Celebrate! Come to the Party and Celebrate Him, Jesus Christ is so Great!" was a special highlight for everyone. The children's choir was directed by Becky Watson from the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade.

Becky Kepp, church hostess, had planned a delicious meal, and over 90 persons shared the meal together.

Diane and Dennis Wagner, Robert and Nancy Maxwell and Janette Campbell decorated the church sanctuary and Masson Fellowship Hall. The decor emphasized the gifts that

God has so faithfully given, and still gives to us as individuals within the church to make the church strong and vital today, as well as for the past 75 years!

This annual conference is an accounting time, for the church to demonstrate through written and oral reports, how it has fulfilled its mission during the past year, and what the church plans and dreams for the new year.

Church officers were elected and the proposed budget was approved at the meeting also.

A special occasion for the church-family was also celebrated during the day's happenings. Harlan and Angela Sears celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary.

As the final moments of the Charge Conference ended, Mr. Wagner sang as 160 sides were shown of our people in the workplace, using daily the gifts and graces God has given them, making a difference in the heart of the Glades for God.

It was a celebration to remember.

Teenager Offers Hope To Children With Cancer

(NAPS)—Teenager Lisa Pappas has been named spokesperson for The National Children's Cancer Society (NCCS).

Her goal as spokesperson? Let kids who are undergoing a bone marrow transplant know that there is hope—that they have a second chance at life. Her life-saving bone marrow transplant (BMT) was made possible by NCCS, which provides financial assistance and services to children seeking a BMT.

A bone marrow transplant is often the only hope of survival for people stricken with life-threatening diseases such as Leukemia and Aplastic Anemia or rare genetic disorders such as Hurler Syndrome.

Today, two years post-transplant, Pappas, from Illinois, plans for her future. "I still want to be a nurse, but not with cancer patients. I've just seen too much cancer. I'm planning on going into neo-natal care." She reflects for a moment and says about her past four years, "I believe I went through this for a reason, to be able to help people and to speak on behalf of the National Children's Cancer Society. I feel I can be a voice for children who are too sick or too little to express their feelings."

If you know a child who needs financial assistance for a bone marrow transplant, call NCCS at 1-800-5-FAMILY.

Palm Glade Security actively ensuring safety and satisfaction

Due to the recent vandalism of the Palm Glade Day Care, K-9 Security, the company which provides security services for the Palm Glade Apartment complex, is actively assisting in the apprehension of those who were involved.

They have been involved in their own investigations into the vandalism and are working in conjunction with the sheriff's department.

According to security personnel, they are dedicated to the complex and they are working to ensure there is adequate safety and security at the premise.

Whitehead field goal puts Gators over Terriers

With standing room only on both sides of the field Friday evening at Terrier field, fans witnessed the Glades Day School Gators defeat Moore Haven Terriers 17-15 in a close-watched match up.

The Terriers started off the game with a hard drive down field. The Gators managed to hold the Terriers to no score in the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter the Terriers went on the scoreboard. The point-after-try was good and the Terriers led the Gators by 7.

The Gators quickly answered the Terrier touchdown, by one of their own. Senior Patrick Whitehead scored on a 22-yard carry, then completed the 2-point conversion, putting the Gators ahead 8-7.

With 1:20 left another Terrier scored on a 20-yard run and completed the 2-point conversion to once again give the Terriers the lead over the Gators at halftime.

With less than two minutes left in the third quarter Gator Jackie Garrett completed a pass to Brad Seider to put the Gators at 14. Hoping to move ahead of the Terriers, they tried for the 2-point conversion but was stopped short, and ended the third quarter, behind by 1 point.

In the fourth quarter neither team kept possession of the ball for long periods of time as there were several turnovers and first downs stopped short. Half way through the fourth quarter, the Gators made a hard drive down field. Coming up short of the fourth down on the 29-yard line, they decided to go for the field goal. The kick by Whitehead was good and the Gators moved ahead of the Terriers 17-15.

The last five minutes of the game was a battle between two teams of athletes. The Terriers made their final drive down field deep into Gator territory and with 32 seconds left on the clock, Terrier quarterback Willie King went back to pass, but was sacked by Gator Farris Shatara causing a fumble that was recovered by the Gators' Patrick Altman, giving the Gators possession and securing the win.

The win sealed the Gators title of the district 2-A champions. Their record is 7-0, and 4-0 in district action.

Moore Haven is 5-2 and 2-2 in district action.

"It was one of the best high school football games I've ever seen," said Dennis Lester of Clewiston. "They showed great sportsmanship and fought a good battle."

"This was definitely the hardest fought game of our season," said Gator Patrick Whitehead. "Moore Haven has a lot of speed, but we maintained."

The Gators are off next week, but will return to the football field Oct. 28 when they travel to LaBelle to face the Cowboys.

LaBelle is ranked number 3 in the District 7 3-A standing. The Cowboys are 1-1 in their district and are 6-1 overall.

Traveling with the Gators to Moore Haven was a hoard of fans who felt the competition even more than the players did.

Raiders travel to Clewiston Friday for district battle

"The Clewiston Tigers team has a talented offense and they have a big line. . ."

Raiders Head Coach Milton Watson

Tammy Jackson

Staff Reporter

The undefeated Glades Central Community High School Raiders will travel to Clewiston tomorrow where they will meet the Tigers in a highly-watched district matchup.

Leading the Raiders into Tiger Territory to meet Clewiston Head Coach Al Morrell and his entourage will be Glades Central Head Coach Milton Watson. Coach Watson is a new member of the Raider family and joined the team this season. Having been off from action last week after a hard-fought game against the Suncoast Chargers two weeks ago, the Raiders are hoping to bring everything together and remain consistent.

Ranked No. 1 in the state

Class 4-A poll and carrying an undefeated record of 6-0, the Raiders don't plan to take the Tigers lightly. Though only 20 minutes separates the two schools, the game is sure to be one of intense hitting, crowd cheering and great band performances.

Senior quarterback Jajuan Seider and senior running back James Jackson will lead the Raiders' offense, while Senior Robert Newkirk and senior Elijah Pompey will demonstrate why the Raiders' defense has allowed only minimal amounts of touchdowns scored.

Newkirk's mother died last week and funeral services were held Wednesday, but Coach Watson said Newkirk has vowed to play in the game and the coach said he will indeed see action. "His mother's dying wish was that he continue to play ball and that he will do," said the coach.

According to Coach Watson, he is interested in a total team effort and he prefers that each player contributes to the success of the Raiders.

"This game is very important to us," said Coach Watson. "If we win this game, we will be the district champions!"

Being that his team will be the visiting team, the coach said he is definitely a bit nervous. "You know what they always say: If you are the home team, you have the advantage," said the coach.

The coach said if the Raiders are going to win the game, there are many different items they must focus on. He said they cannot afford to make any of the mistakes they made in previous games, they must focus on the fundamentals, they must focus on special teams, they must eliminate earlier mistakes, and they must sharpen the defensive end play.

"We're going to try to do nothing to defeat ourselves," said Coach Watson.

Not taking anything away from the Tigers, Coach Watson said he has no doubt the Raiders will come back to Belle Glade with another game in the "Win" column. He said "They (Clewiston) are a great ball team. I think they're better than what they're record shows."

Much like Belle Glade, Clewiston carries a mound of school spirit and enthusiasm. Both the home-team bleachers and the visiting-team bleachers are expected to be filled and a sold-out crowd is almost guaranteed to be in attendance.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. in Tiger territory. With the crowd expected to reach capacity, arrive early to ensure a good seat!

"Okay team, let's get it together and stay undefeated," said one Gator player to the another.

Pahokee unable to defeat Suncoast; Blue Devils to face Bishop Perot this Friday

By Robbie Everett

The Pahokee Blue Devils gridders suffered a disappointing loss at Suncoast last Friday but the game was exciting from start to finish.

The lead was shared alternately by both teams with the Blue Devils failing to convert on two key 2-point conversions.

This loss was only the second loss for the Blue Devils this season. The two losses have been by a combined 3 points. However, the Blue Devils are still in the running for a play-off berth.

Players to note in the Suncoast game were Jahshes Everett, senior quarterback who completed 13 of 25 passes for 161 yards with three touchdowns; James Burroughs, four receptions for 77 yards with three touchdowns; George Ruggles, eight receptions for 81 yards; and, Andre Taylor, nine carries for 44 yards.

"Last week's game was the first one that offensively, the passing game was effective and the running game was ineffective," said Pahokee Head Coach Mark Kaczanowicz. "Friday night's game against Bishop Verot is a must win. We have back-to-back district games and we need to win both to secure a position in our district standings," said the coach.

Presently, LaBelle is in the driver's seat in the District 7 3-A poll.

Pahokee has been on the road most of the season with only two home games being played in the Glades. The Blue Devils look forward to the next two home games and are anticipating cheering home crowds that will keep the boys hyped during the game.

"The game against Bishop Verot won't be an easy one," said the Blue Devils' coach. "We've beat them in close games the last two years and they're out to win this year. According to a news report following their defeat over Naples Friday night, their star running back has predicted a win for them."

Bishop Verot has a big team and they like to run the ball a lot.

Game time is 7:30 at Blue Devils field.

Glades Day Gators J.V. routs Benjamin, 34-8

Tammy Jackson

Staff Reporter

In a match-up that was played out to be a BIG one, The Baby Gators of Glades Day School came out fighting and literally chomped the Benjamin team. With many of the Gators contributing to the win, the junior varsity team will be at home again this week where they will host LaBelle.

Lee Sweet rushed 10 times for 228 yards and three touchdowns for the Gators.

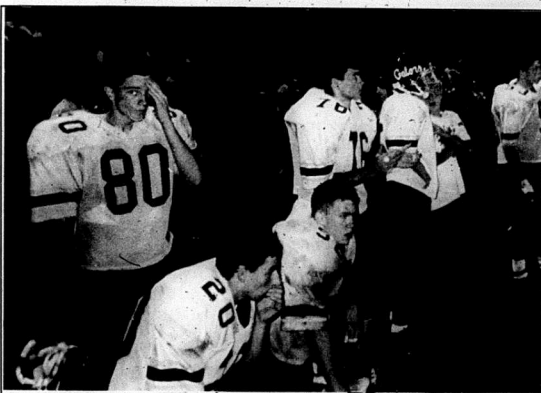

John Courson rushed 12 times for a total of 52 yards, and Heath Norman rushed 6 times for 38 yards. Norman scored one 2-point conversion run, caught one 45-yard touchdown reception, and he caught a 2-point conversion pass.

Lane Crews rushed three times for 19 yards, and Michael Throop rushed one time for a total 15 yards.

Zac Threlkeld threw a 45-yard to Norman, and Norman threw a 2-point conversion pass to Justin Hamilton.

On defense, Pablo Sanchez had 10 tackles and four assists. Thomas Norman had nine tackles with four assists, and Mathew Snow contributed with four tackles and three assists. Jerry Arline had equal tackles and assists with three.

The action proved intense and outstanding for the Gators. As some members are able to take a breather, others are on the field hustling to stop the Terriers.

Gator action kept fans on their feet all night long.

Homecoming games . . .

How to host a winning football party

Football isn't just a spectator sport anymore. Whether it's a Sunday afternoon football party in front of the big screen TV or a tailgate party at the stadium, football is an occasion for fans to get together with friends to have a good time.

The secret to having a memorable football or tailgating party is to carry the theme from first quarter to last without fumbling. Here are some strategies that will help you score big:

Have a game plan - Do as much food preparation as possible before the game begins, or before leaving for the stadium.

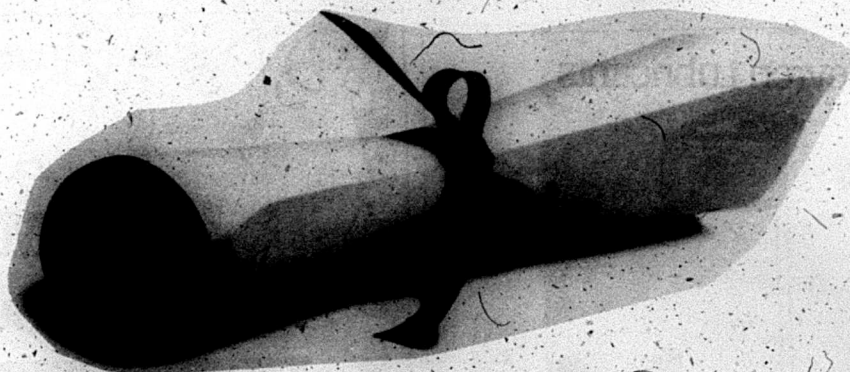

Create your own gridiron - Lay a piece of green Astroturf down on the parking lot or on the floor of the TV room, and create a miniature football field by using white tape to mark off yard lines.

Intercept endless requests for utensils, condiments, etc. - Cover an old ironing board with green felt to make a portable buffet table (keep it from tipping by placing bricks against the legs) and use a 16" wide X 40" long saddle piece of fabric to hold utensils, napkins and plates.

Tackle menu planning by keeping it simple - baked potatoes, with various toppings in individual containers and teriyaki meat sticks - are ideal fare for indoor and outdoor football parties.

Make clean-up a snap - Save post-party cleanup until after the game and use disposable tableware.

When throwing an indoor or outdoor football party, remember that your goal is for everyone to have fun - including yourself.

Crowd pleasing snacks for football fans

You want to score a touchdown with your hungry football fans without running yourself ragged, here are some ideas for easy-to-prepare hot appetizers. The main ingredient is breadsticks. All you do is mix up different toppings, brush on and bake. The result is three crowd pleasing snacks that take only minutes to make.

Hot Sticks

1 tablespoon taco seasoning mix

Parmesan Cheese Sticks

2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
1/8 teaspoon garlic powder

Spicy Mustard Sticks

1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
1/8 teaspoon dried basil

In a small bowl, add any of the combinations listed to 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine. Brush top surface of original or sourdough breadsticks with butter mixture. Bake at 400 degrees for 6-8 minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot.
